Dean's Message

Today's world is full of complexities and requires legal interpretations and applications in almost every sphere of human life. Be it a man, woman, or child, everyone at all stages of life requires a certain level of protection, support, and application of law.

The School of Law at MIT-WPU, is catering young boys and girls and shaping them into sharp professionals by providing them a balanced version of Law & Business, Procedure and application and preparing them with legal probabilities to possibilities with our vast pool of knowledge. Our knowledge contributors are expert professionals from Higher Judiciary, top academic institutions, Leading law firms and corporates, who are not only seasoned professionals but have rigorous experience to deal with tailor made requirements of the day-to-day life, business, and relationships.

Our existing, young, dynamic, and hard-working faculty members are ready with their positive and realistic approach to direct the newly arriving schoolers and committed to guide their energy into focussed targets to become successful.

We foresee our students to become successful by adopting real time experience on guided internships, simulated para-academic activities like moot court, MUN, Parliamentary debates and helping the society through participating in Legal Aid clinic activities.

Our National and International immersion program exposes our students by visiting various parts of India and the world and let them experience a completely new world of language, society, culture, lifestyle, and human values on their own.

Let's join our hands and make the world more peaceful, happy, and prosperous together.

COURSES

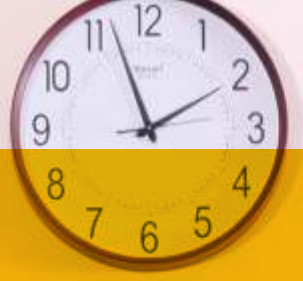

LL.B

(Bachelor of Laws)

The LLB (Bachelor of Laws) is a three-year law program that acquaints students with the framework of the legal system which includes Business Laws, Intellectual Property Rights, Alternative Dispute Resolution, the Indian Constitution and more. Students get an in-depth understanding of acts and laws through seminars by expert academicians, industry experts, and practicing lawyers. The School has a dedicated Employability, Placement, and Career Advancement Cell to ensure placements and career opportunities for budding lawyers.

Let Your Passion
Be your Career

BBA LL.B. (Hons)

Bachelor of Business Administration-Bachelor of Legislative Laws is a five-year program that combines the knowledge of management with law. The programme offers practical training in law as well as a fundamental understanding of Management, Finance, Marketing, and Human Resources. This unique combination prepares the students for flourishing careers in business and litigation. The final semester offers regular interaction with management and litigation experts, Moot Court exercises, and internships.

BA LLB
(Hons)

The Bachelor of Arts LLB (Hons) is a comprehensive five-year programme that brings together the disciplines of humanities including Sociology, History, Political Science, Economics, Psychology, etc and a study of law. Students understand the working of the larger society in which the legal system functions. This allows them to learn in a contextual manner.

The curriculum is in tandem with new-age industry needs and creates a strong base for acing competitive examinations. The internship and placement cell at the Department of Law assists students in finding internship opportunities.

The LLM programme at the School of Law trains students to develop a sharp acumen of legal research and identify and apply the key concepts of substantive and procedural law to a given set of facts and circumstances. The students acquire the skill of legal analysis, logical reasoning and problem solving through an in-depth study of the society, laws and the judicial procedures. The students understand the theories and practice of legislative enactment and interpretation and are trained to apply them in their litigations through MOOT Court Sessions. The students can choose between four specialisations namely Constitutional law, Criminal Law, International Law and Business Law.

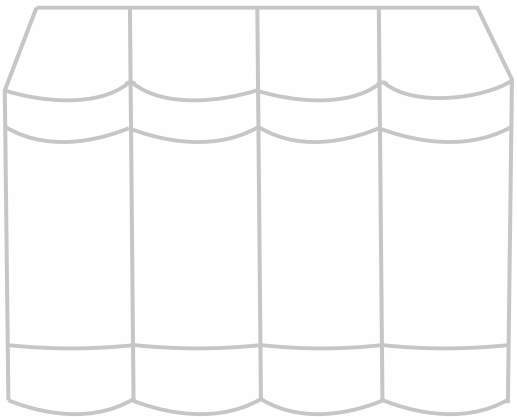

LLM

PhD. in Law

The Ph.D. in Law at MIT-WPU facilitates research skills in postgraduate students so they can enter the world of research and academia and contribute to their respective field of study. The specially designed course and training sessions train the students in components of research like hypothesis creation, research questions, literature review, ethics of research, and use of online applications and repositories.

They are guided to choose relevant topics of research and pursue a thorough, systematic study which is evaluated at regular intervals. The candidates are also encouraged to publish papers in reputed journals and are guided by eminent faculty who hold extensive experience in the field of research.

International Symposium on Law and Peace

MIT World Peace University School of Law in association with Pune District Bar Association organizes the International Symposium on Law and Peace. The ISLP is a common platform to legal professionals, youths, policy planners, thinkers and global society at large, to come together, for the dialogue, open discussions, deliberations, recommending measures, addressing conflict resolution through peace building processes, promoting the culture of peace and harmony for a digitally dynamic and complex society.

The Symposium is a unique platform for non-political and non-aligned deliberations between judges, lawyers, jurists, adjudicators, legal advisors, mediators, academicians, policy makers, social observers, industry personnel, the youth, and society at large to meet, exchange perspectives, and to share best practices, relating to the promotion of ethical and spirited leadership and for promoting sustainable peace and development processes through law & justice.

Internships

Keeping in mind the essentially practical nature of the discipline of Law, the School of Law offers 100 % internship assistance to our students. These internships aim to provide a platform to integrate classroom knowledge with related practical applications and skills in a professional ecosystem. Till date, our students have started their careers by interning at reputed law firms and NGOs namely Reddy & Reddy, Darade Associates, Eco-Logical Foundation, RVS Law Firm; with some of the best lawyers like Adv. Anjali Pawar, Adv. Ameya Dange, Adv. Nikhil Chate to name a few. Further we provide Internships in various Commissions like the State and National Human Rights Commission, Women and Child Rights Commission. The School of Law plans to expand internship opportunities in the legal cells of the various Government offices.

Eligibility and Selection Process

55% & above aggregate score in 10+2 or in equivalent examination (at least 50 % marks, in case of Backward class categories candidates belonging to Maharashtra State only)

And

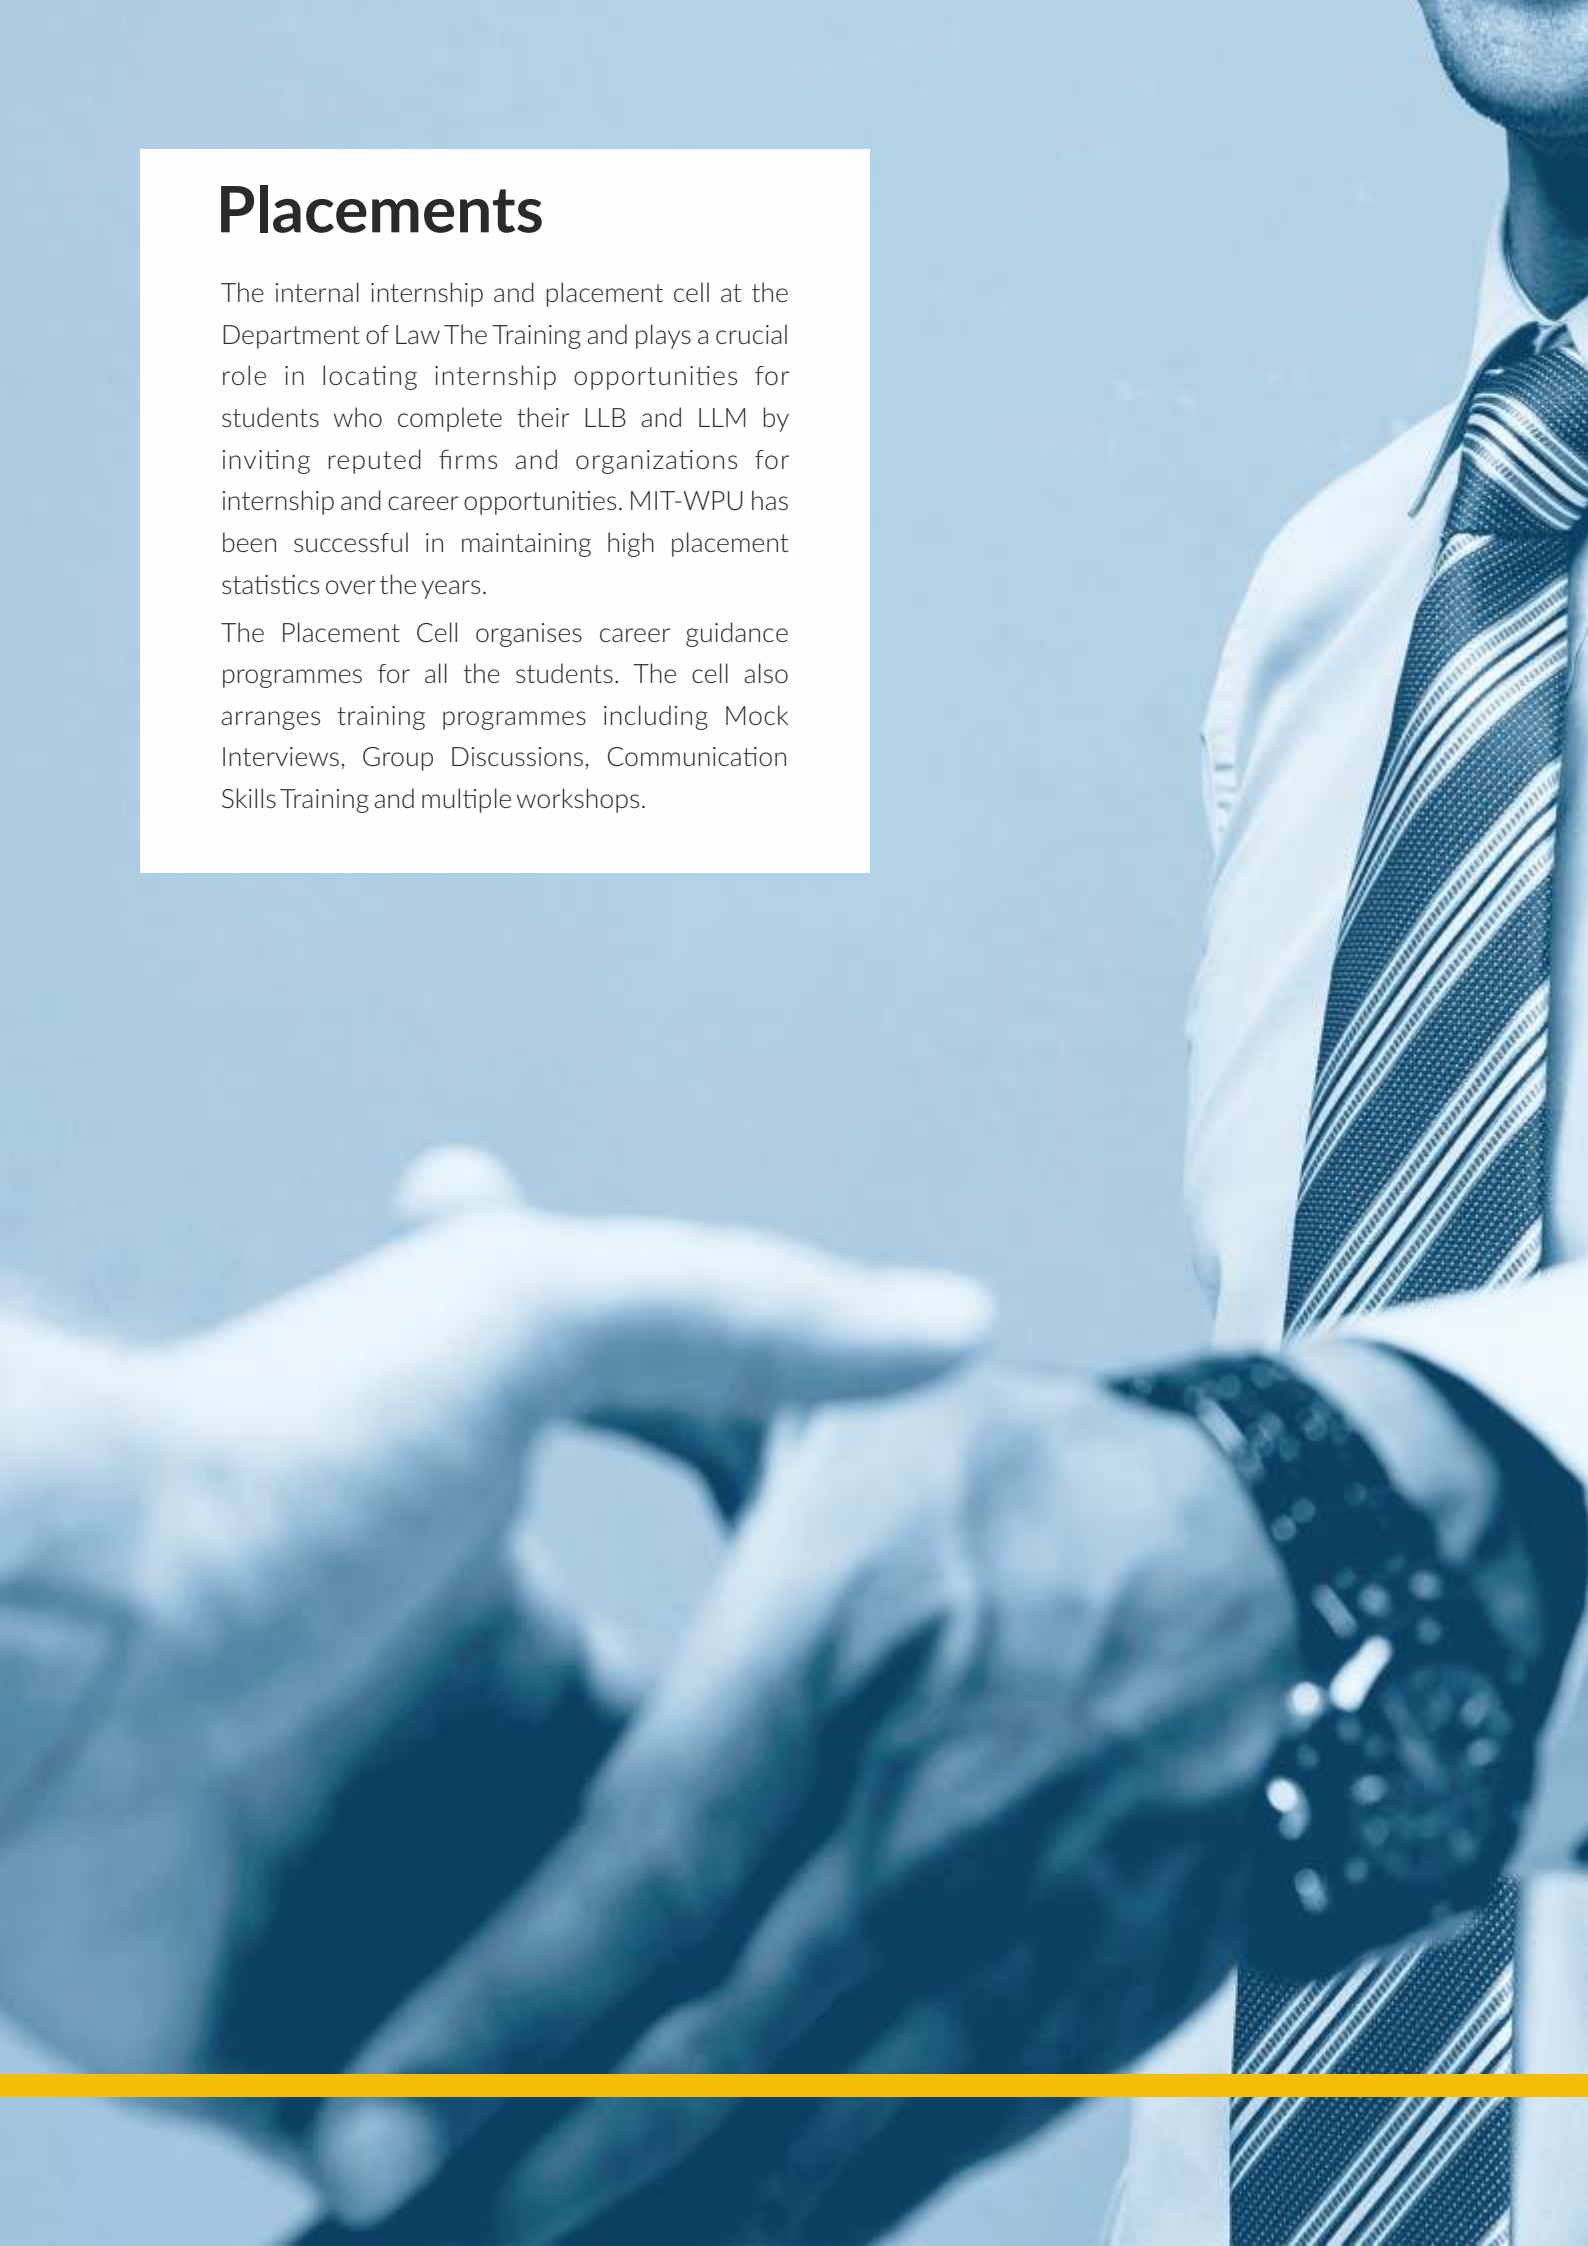

55% & above aggregate score in MIT-WPU CET & Personal Interview. (Candidates appeared for MIT-WPU CET should submit score for LSAT / CLAT/ PERA)

Placements

The internal internship and placement cell at the Department of Law The Training and plays a crucial role in locating internship opportunities for students who complete their LLB and LLM by inviting reputed firms and organizations for internship and career opportunities. MIT-WPU has been successful in maintaining high placement statistics over the years.

The Placement Cell organises career guidance programmes for all the students. The cell also arranges training programmes including Mock Interviews, Group Discussions, Communication Skills Training and multiple workshops.

Alumni and Students' Testimonials

"As a student, I always wanted to pursue law along with BBA and not many institutions offered this course. It was then that I came across MIT World Peace University. MIT-WPU has an environment like no other and it is an extremely reputed university. I am confident that the legal education provided here will help me in securing a bright career."

Behnaz Nanavatti

"I chose to go to MIT-WPU because I want to maximize my post-college opportunities while still in school. They have a vast alumni network, which helped me land a great summer internship. I also chose this university because I like being part of a diverse student body. The world is a big place, and I thought attending a big school would better prepare me for life in the real world, and I was right."

Arva Sadliwala

MIT-WPU has always given positive vibes to us as students. With excellent academic as well as co-curricular infrastructure with very welcoming and highly skilled members of faculty, I feel truly overwhelmed and confident. The institution has taken all efforts to keep a balance in curriculum, social activities, and sports. I am allowed to express myself without any fear. MIT-WPU makes sure to bring the best out of its students.
